EXPLANATIONS.

1. This excess was caused partly by a revision of the Salaries by the Treasury after the Estimate had been voted, and partly by Travelling and Incidental Expenses in connection with the Shannon Floods Inquiry.
2. The increase of Correspondence required that a larger sum than had been estimated should be paid to the Post Office Revenue.
3. The principal cause of excess on this Vote was the proceedings in the cases of the "Alexandra" and other Vessels under the Foreign Enlistment Act. The sums paid to the Queen's Proctor for intervention in Divorce Cases in which collusion was suspected also exceeded the sum provided in the Estimate by 1,641 l.; and 500 l. was paid for Legal Assistance in connection with the Courts of Justice Buildings Bill.
4. This excess was occasioned by the proceedings for repression of the Fenian agitation.
5. This excess occurred on a Vote amounting to 288,905 l. Two causes of increased expenditure were the growth of the system of Reformatory and Industrial Schools, and the increased rate per head payable for the Maintenance of Prisoners in County Gaols.
6. The payments made from the Vote for Special Missions, &c. are stated in detail annually with the Estimates.
7. This sum is due to the Treasury Chest in respect of Advances for certain Services formerly provided for in the Vote for St. Helena. The Advances continued for a period beyond that for which provision was made for them in the Estimate; and this Vote will effect an adjustment between the two Accounts.
8. The excess in this case was occasioned by unexpected demands for the supply of Badges, Robes, &c. for the Orders of Knighthood.
9. This excess is explained in the Appropriation Account laid before Parliament in the present Session.

Sir,

Her Majesty's Stationery Office, 31 December 1866.

I HAVE the honour to forward herewith, for the information of the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury, an Estimate of the sums that will probably be required to defray the expenditure of this Office for the public service during the ensuing financial year 1867-68.

This Estimate is nearly 27,000 l. more than the sum granted for the current year; but nearly the whole of this excess, beyond the moderate annual increase which (as I pointed out last year) must be expected to arise from the extending business of the Administrative Departments generally, is traceable to specific operations, which I will briefly explain.

The Departments for which a noticeable augmentation of expenditure will have to be provided are the following:—

Parliamentary Printing	-	-	-	-	-	-	£. 10,000
Registrar-General	-	-	-	-	-	-	4,450
Post Office	-	-	-	-	-	-	3,000
Privy Council	-	-	-	-	-	-	2,500
Patent Office	-	-	-	-	-	-	2,000
Stationery Office Publications	-	-	-	-	-	-	1,500
Legal Departments	-	-	-	-	-	-	1,050
Irish Establishment	-	-	-	-	-	-	1,600

Besides the above, the expenditure for "The Unstamped Warehouse" branch of the Inland Revenue Department will be 3,000 l. more than last year; but as this is more than counterbalanced by a diminution in the cost of other articles supplied to, or work done for, that Department, I have not taken it into account. Moreover, all outlay under this head is repaid by the sale to the public of the forms provided, at a slight increase of price, and is therefore a source of revenue rather than of cost.

Parliamentary Printing.

This item is always to a great extent conjectural, and is one over which I can, of course, exercise no control. In my last estimate I asked for an unusually small sum (66,000 l.), which has been, or will be, much exceeded, partly in consequence of the printing of five volumes indexes for the House of Lords, and one for the House of Commons, an expense which only recurs occasionally and irregularly, and partly in consequence of an unexpected and unusual amount of voluminous reports and evidence ordered to be printed for presentation to Parliament, much of which is now in type.

Registrar General.

The entire increase under this head is due to the plan proposed by the Registrar General and sanctioned by the Treasury, of printing the alphabetical indexes of births, deaths, and marriages, which had hitherto been copied by hand. The cost of this arrangement, which is for the convenience of the public, and which will in the end reduce the labour, and presumably, therefore, the expenditure, in the Registrar General's Office, will probably, in future years, not exceed 2,900 l.

Post Office.

Early in the current year the Postmaster General directed a change in the Quarterly Postal Guide, and the issue of a smaller monthly publication of the same character, both of which, it was believed, would contribute to the public convenience. The cost of this alteration will be about 600 l. a year; and as I have seven quarters to provide for, 1,050 l. of the estimated augmentation is accounted for. The remaining 2,000 l. is due to the steady increase of business in this Department, necessitating a continuously rising outlay for paper, envelopes, printed forms, books, binding, and small stores.

Privy Council Office.

The whole, and more than the whole, increase in the expenditure of this Department is due to the Cattle Plague. The entire amount that will have been expended by the Stationery Office in consequence of this visitation, from first to last, cannot be less than 4,000 l.

Patent Office.

For this Department I am obliged to ask for 18,500 l., which, though 2,000 l. more than last year, is below the amounts granted on several previous occasions. The current expenditure is unusually heavy, by reason of the increased number of specifications printed, and of the reaction consequent on a temporary interruption of activity in the office, arising from well-known circumstances. On the whole, however, it must be remembered, the Patent Office is a source of revenue rather than of cost to the Exchequer.

Stationery Office Publications.

The expenditure in printing the "London Gazette" has been unusually great, mainly in consequence of proclamations connected with the Cattle Plague; but as it is to be hoped that this exceptional cause of outlay is nearly over, and as I have been able to reduce the cost of the paper on which the "Gazette" is printed, the expenditure may be expected shortly to return to its normal average. A somewhat increased expense will also, in all probability, have to be incurred for books printed by order of the War Office, in consequence of alterations in arms and system of drill that are in contemplation.

The principal cause of the increase under this head is that, for the first time, I am now directed to supply books, stationery, &c., to the Judges' Chambers. Legal Departments.

I am obliged to estimate for upwards of 900 l. more for the Chief Secretary's Office, and 600 l. more for the Police and Constabulary in Ireland, on account of extra expenditure traceable to the present disturbed state of that country. Irish Departments.

I would beg to call their Lordships' attention to the Balance Sheet showing the net annual expenditure of this office in 1865-66, as compared with that in 1864-65. It will be seen that although the gross outlay for which I was obliged to apply to Parliament was only 8,210 l. less in the second year than in the first, the real net (unreturned) expenditure was 15,491 l. less. And this, as I need not point out, is the true criterion of what stationery and printing on Government and Parliamentary account actually cost the country.

If I also venture to ask attention to the very moderate cost at which the business of this Department is carried on, in reference to the extent and multifarious character of its transactions, I do so in no spirit of complacency or self-laudation; for it is to be attributed almost exclusively to the admirable arrangements and organization introduced by my predecessor, and to the very efficient and industrious staff of employés which I inherited from him. It is known to their Lordships that, in addition to providing for the wants of both Houses of Parliament, and of all the Government Departments, in regard to printing, paper, binding, books, and small stores, we also supply the whole of the analogous requirements of India and of our Colonies, being repaid for our advances, and charging a moderate commission on the outlay, viz., 5 per cent. in the case of the Colonies, and 2½ per cent. in the case of India. The expenditure on account of India has of late increased rapidly and greatly. The aggregate reached 32,000 l. in 1864-65, and 54,000 l. in 1865-66; whereas in eight months of the current year it has already exceeded 97,000 l., and will probably reach a total of 125,000 l. before the 31st March. But when we compare the entire cost of our establishment with the entire amount of business done, in the first place, or the net cost (after deducting the commission charged to India and the Colonies), with the amount expended on account of the Parliamentary grant, in the second place, we shall find that in neither case does the rate much exceed 4 per cent. on the outlay;—

					Total Expenditure Controlled.	Gross Cost of Establishment.	Rate per Cent.
1864-65	-	-	-	-	444,800	17,800	4
1865-66	-	-	-	-	448,200	18,600	4.15

					Parliamentary and Government Expenditure Controlled.	Net Cost of Establishment.	Rate per Cent.
1864-65	-	-	-	-	360,500	16,000	4.43
1865-66	-	-	-	-	352,300	16,350	4.63

N.B. The increase in both the gross and net cost of the establishment is due in part to the gradual advance of salaries from the minimum towards the maximum, and in part to the circumstance of the office of Comptroller having been vacant for some weeks in the first of the two years.

I have, &c.

NOTES explanatory of the ESTIMATE for PUBLIC EDUCATION in the Financial Year 1867-8.

The Estimate provides for Elementary Schools, Normal Schools, and Administration. Part of the estimate for Elementary Schools, (so much of it, namely, as relates to annual grants to such Schools in Scotland, and to unexpired Pensions) is framed according to the Code of 1860. The rest of the Estimate is framed according to the Revised Code (1867).

(1.) By Minutes dated 21 March 1863, 11 June 1864, 11 May 1865, and 18 June 1866, the Revised Code, so far as payments for the maintenance of Elementary Schools in Scotland are concerned, has been suspended until 30 June 1868, to allow time for receiving and considering the Report of a Royal Commission appointed to inquire into Education in that part of Great Britain. But although the payments have continued to be made according to the Code of 1860, the inspection and examination of schools in Scotland have been conducted, since 31 March 1864, according to the Revised Code.

(2.) Pensions are not allowed under the Revised Code. The Estimate is for Pensions already allowed, and not yet expired, under the Code of 1860.

(3.) The Estimate of 915,740 day scholars, as the number for which provision must be made for annual grants to Elementary Schools in England and Wales, is arrived at as follows:—The number 915,740 is the corrected average number in attendance at aided Elementary Day Schools in England and Wales, to which payments are conditionally due in the year ending 31 March 1868, and is based on the number 863,420, being the actual average number in attendance at such schools in the year ending 31 August 1866, with 4.22 per cent. allowed thereon for increase up to 31 August 1867 (86,479), and 4.22 per cent. for the seven following months upon (863,420+86,479=949,899), bringing up the total to 915,740. The average rate of grant per day scholar for years ending 31 August was 8s. 1d. in 1863, and 9s. in 1864-5-6.

The additional 4d. per scholar allows for 15,262l. to be expended as increased aid under the Minute of 20th February 1867.

The average number of evening scholars attending the classes examined in years ending 31 August was 33,904 in 1865, and the grant per scholar 5s. 9.5d.; 40,141 in 1866, and the grant per scholar 5s. 8d. The facilities given by Articles 132-149 of the Code, embodying the Minute dated 8 February 1865, for the examination of evening scholars, warrants the expectation of a sustained increase in their number.

(4.) See Table, No. 7, p. 12. The comparison of the year, ending 31st December, 1865 with 1866, is as follows:

SCHOOL BUILDING.	1865.	1866.

Granted by the Committee of Council - - -	18,882 16 -	24,222 2 11

Schools enlarged or improved - - - -	46 - -	50 - -
Children for whom accommodation has been provided -	15,302 - -	20,546 - -

The amount of outstanding liabilities for building grants awarded, but not claimed, is 32,944l. 6s. 10d.; a period of 18 months is allowed from the date of the award for claiming payment. This latter sum is exclusive of grants to be awarded, and of which payment may be claimed within the year 1867-68.

(5.) The estimate for Training Colleges is based on a mode of payment noticed in the Estimate 1864-5 as follows:—"We have provided for the gradual introduction of a plan, whereby each college will be paid for those only of its students who are fairly launched in their profession as teachers. The principle of our Minute is shortly this: we assume 100l. to represent the cost of training a male, and 70l. that of training a female student, during two years; and we grant to the college five annual payments of 20l. for each of its male, and 14l. for each of its female students, who, after probationary service as a teacher, obtains one of our certificates. We limit the total amount of our grant to 75 per cent. of the approved expenditure, and we also make it dependent upon the number of students for the time being in residence."

(6.) The number of members of the permanent establishment (see p. 8) has not been increased beyond the estimate of last year, except by provision for two additional inspectors.

The organisation of the permanent establishment is founded, with certain modifications (approved by the Lords of the Treasury), upon the Report of the Committee of Enquiry on Public Offices presented (1854) to both Houses of Parliament, pp. 230-243.

OBSERVATIONS.

THE heads of Estimate (p. 4) and of Expenditure (p. 6) are numbered to correspond with each other.

Head No. 1 is confined exclusively to Scotland, and head No. 3 to England and Wales. These two heads (1 and 3) comprise the whole of the sums granted for the direct maintenance of Elementary Day Schools in operation throughout Great Britain, or 73 per cent. of the total Estimate. The other heads for providing Schoolhouses (No. 4), training Teachers (No. 5), Inspection and Administration (No. 6), may be regarded as subsidiary.

The small sum remaining under the head (No. 2) of Unexpired Pensions has no serious effect upon the system in operation.

As Nos. 1 and 3 of the Estimate are the only heads which differ for England and for Scotland, and as this difference does not affect the manner in which Schools are examined and inspected, but only the manner in which grants are paid, some of the principal results of the past year may be stated in identical forms for the whole of Great Britain.

The total number of Elementary Day Schools visited by Her Majesty's Inspectors during 1866 was 8,753, and Schoolrooms under separate Teachers, 12,130. They found present 1,264,829 Children; the number found present in 1865 was 1,214,270; increase, 50,559.

The figures from which this Table is calculated show that in the aided schools throughout Great Britain in 1866—

A. Only 664,005 day scholars were qualified by attendance (200 times within the year at the same school), and were judged by the managers to be qualified by attainments, for examination, where 803,177 were qualified by age. The difference marks either interruption of attendance, or failure in instruction.

B. Only 161,773 were presented, and only 97,364 passed without failure above Standard III., where 264,231, being over 10 years of age, ought to have done so, had the first Standard been mastered in the 7th year, the second Standard in the 8th year, and so on. The difference marks children passing out of school to work with less of elementary knowledge than Standard IV. denotes.

(B.) The number of Visitors to the Museum during the year 1866 has been, in the morning, 515,674 and in the evening, 240,401, giving a total of 756,075 persons. Since the opening of the Museum, from 22 June 1857 to 31 December 1866, it has been visited by 6,485,572 persons. The annual average, excluding 1862, the year of the Exhibition, has been 582,689.

The receipts from the public frequenting the South Kensington Museum during the year 1866 have amounted to 1,167*l.* 16*s.*, which have been paid to the Exchequer.

(B. I.) The Metropolitan Police Force has the entire charge of watching the Museum, both internally and externally. The Museum and Schools are lighted from sunset till 10 p.m.: and great precautions against fire are necessary. The numbers attending the Museum in the evening, since the opening in 1857, have been 2,450,936.

(B. II. 1 & 2.) These purchases are supplementary, a large number of the books and objects in the collections being presented to the nation by the public. 2. The collections of Naval Architecture have been lately transferred from Somerset House for the use of the Students of the School of Naval Architecture, and the inspection of the public. Numerous additions have been made by private shipbuilders.

(B. II. 3. a. c.) Objects are circulated, as far as practicable, to local Art schools.

(B. II. d.) The number of Loans received from private individuals in 1866 was of the value of several hundred thousand pounds. The names of the lenders, &c. are given in the Annual Report.

(B. II. 4.) The Art Library was attended by 11,622 persons in 1866, and fees, at the rate of 6*d.* a week, amounting to 86*l.* 9*s.*, paid to the Exchequer.

The books, &c. are also circulated to the local Schools of Art under proper regulations. 16 Schools borrowed Books in 1866.

(B. III.) A printed Catalogue of the printed works of all countries relating to the Fine Arts from the invention of printing up to the year 1866, is in course of preparation. The receipts for Catalogues sold in the South Kensington Museum, during the year 1866, have amounted to 97*l.* 15*s.* 8*d.* This sum has been paid to the Exchequer.

(B. IV.) Every object in the Museum is labelled.

(C.) This Exhibition will probably extend over three seasons, opening in April and closing in August. The Exhibition will be held in the Upper Arcades overlooking the Royal Horticultural Gardens, which have been prepared and heated. It will be made as self-supporting as possible. No vote will be required for it this year, as the entrance fees are expected to pay the cost. This Exhibition is based upon the suggestions made by the Earl of Derby in a letter dated 6th May 1865, from which the following extracts are made:—

“I have long thought that a National Portrait Exhibition, chronologically arranged, might not only possess great historical interest by bringing together portraits of all the most eminent contemporaries of their respective eras, but might also serve to illustrate the progress and condition, at various periods, of British Art. My idea, therefore, would be to admit either portraits of eminent men, though by inferior or unknown artists, or portraits by eminent artists, though of obscure or unknown individuals. I have, of course, no means of knowing, or estimating, the number of such portraits which may exist in the country; but I am persuaded that, exclusive of the large collections in many great houses, there are very many scattered about by ones and twos and threes in private families, the owners of which, though they could not be persuaded to part with them, would willingly spare them for a few months for a public object.”

“The question of one, two, or three exhibitions in consecutive years, would, I apprehend, be mainly decided by the result of future inquiries as to the probable number of pictures which could be obtained, and the space which could be found for their exhibition. But whether the period over which each exhibition (if more than one) should range, be longer or shorter, the point on which I should set the greatest value, in an historical, if not in an artistic point of view, would be the strict maintenance of the chronological series. I shall be very happy if any suggestion of mine should lead the Committee of Council to take up seriously, and carry out, with such alterations of detail as experience might suggest, a scheme which I think could hardly fail of being generally interesting; and I should have much pleasure in placing temporarily at their disposal any portraits from my collection at Knowsley which they might think suitable for their purpose.”

(D.) The amount proposed to be taken this year is in accordance with the Letter of the Secretary of the Treasury of the 24th May 1866, in which the approval of the Lords of the Treasury was communicated for the expenditure of a sum not exceeding 195,000*l.* on new buildings at South Kensington, to be spread over a period of six years. The correspondence on this subject, with a plan of the buildings, was printed by Order of the House of Commons on the 23rd July 1866.

(E.) The object of this vote is the removal of the iron building at South Kensington to a site at Bethnal Green, which is offered, free of cost, by a committee in the locality.

* During the year 1866, 1,134 square miles have been surveyed in England, 331 in Scotland, and 965 in Ireland.

† Sir R. Murchison computed in 1860 that with the present staff of surveyors the geological survey of England, as regards the publication of maps on the 1-inch scale, would be completed in from 15 to 20 years; of Scotland, in about 32 years; and of Ireland, in about 25 years; but for reasons given in his annual report of last year, he thinks the time will be longer. The large additions which it is now proposed to make to the staff, is with a view to the more rapid completion of the work.

‡ The votes for England and Scotland have hitherto been taken in one sum. It is now proposed to take them separately.

MEMORANDUM, sent to the Treasury by the Science and Art Department, on the Differences between the Paris Exhibition of 1867, and the Paris Exhibition of 1855; with an Estimate of the Cost for that of 1867.

THE Paris Exhibition of 1867 differs in many important particulars from all former exhibitions, and especially so as regards the charges placed upon foreign countries. These are so numerous and heavy as to render any comparison with the Paris Exhibition of 1855 fallacious, if such comparisons deal only with the spaces occupied in the two cases. The present Exhibition is indeed more analogous to our own Exhibition of 1862, and may be regarded as a complete Exhibition made in a foreign country instead of at home, for the portion of the mere carcass of the main building provided by the French Government will be little more than an equivalent for the expense which is entailed by the Exhibition being made in Paris instead of in London.

The Exhibition of 1862, which was conducted with the strictest economy, averaged only 9s. per foot, including every expense. The British section of the Paris Exhibition of this year, is one-third the size of the Exhibition of 1862, and estimated at the same rate, would cost 162,000l.

If, however, it be desired to make the comparison with the French Exhibition of 1855, and due allowance be made for the peculiar circumstances and charges alluded to, the following data will be of assistance. In 1855, the space occupied by the United Kingdom and the colonies, was 183,000 square feet. In 1867, it will be 360,000 square feet. For 1855, the sum voted by Parliament was 50,000l., but of this only 40,000l. was spent, or something less than 4s. 6d. per foot. Supposing, for the moment, the circumstances of this present Exhibition to be similar, this would give upwards of 80,000l. as its probable cost, but to this the greater part of the following services would have to be added.

In 1855, the flooring, decorations, counters, blinds, water-closets and other fittings, and nearly the whole staff for cleaning, arranging, and watching, were provided by the French authorities. In 1867, all these, except the flooring and blinds in the fine arts divisions, have to be provided by foreign nations. Internal fittings of works.

In 1867, the cost of erecting the following works will have to be defrayed by this country: several supplementary buildings in the park, viz., a boiler-house and chimney, and buildings for agricultural and horticultural implements, for marine engines, &c., for munitions of war, &c., and for heating and lighting. There will be a wharf to be constructed with a portion of the tunnel to it, with a building near the Seine. The planting and charge of its share of the ground in the park will also fall on this country. Similar charges are placed on all other foreign countries. Supplementary Buildings.

In 1855, there was no exhibition of ancient "Objets d'Art," or a "Loan Exhibition." "Loan collection." In 1867, there is to be one, which entails grave responsibility and heavy expense.

Government Departments.

In 1855, the War Department, the Admiralty, the Trinity House, the Post Office, the Treasury in respect of public printing, and the Science and Art Department, were but slightly represented, if at all, but in 1867 they will all be fully represented.

Classification.

In 1855, the Exhibition was arranged into 30 classes, which were scattered throughout the buildings. In 1867, the Exhibition is subdivided into 95 classes, which are rigidly fixed in certain parts of the buildings whereby much increased difficulty is entailed. In 1855, the Jurors and Associates for the United Kingdom were 59. In 1867, there will be 85 Jurors, besides a large number of Associates and Delegates. In 1855, the British Executive caused 19 special Reports to be prepared. In 1867, 85 at least of such reports will have to be prepared, and it is most desirable they should be published as early as possible after the opening of the Exhibition, in order to be useful in it.

Juries.

Reports.

Transit.

In 1855, the expenses of the transit of goods were defrayed by the French and British authorities conjointly; but in 1867 no allowances are made.

Royal Commission.

In 1855, there was no Royal Commission to advise on the Exhibition, and to give it importance, whilst for 1867, Her Majesty the Queen has been advised to issue a Royal Commission, presided over by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, and composed of some of the most distinguished personages of the kingdom. There is also a numerous body of Associate Commissioners.

Making due allowance for such services as formed items also in the expenditure of 1855, there would remain an estimated extra expenditure on the present exhibition of 56,000 l.

This sum, added to the 80,000*l*. obtained on a calculation from space alone, gives 136,000*l*. as the probable cost of the Exhibition, or with an allowance of one-tenth for contingencies, of 149,600*l*., whilst the sum arrived at by the first mode of comparison was 162,000 l.

Nevertheless it is hoped that, by the exercise of close economy, this sum might be reduced to 116,650*l*., as shown by the following summary :

Internal fittings - - - - -	16,100
Supplementary Buildings and Park - - - - -	23,065

SCHOOLS INQUIRY COMMISSION.

2, Victoria Street, Westminster, S. W.,
9 January 1867.

Sir,

In reply to your letter of the 5th instant, I have the honour to state to you, for the information of Mr. Secretary Walpole, that the Commissioners have very nearly concluded their investigation, and are now proceeding to the consideration of their report. They hope to be able to report to Her Majesty before the close of the next Session of Parliament. The information which they have collected will require careful digestion and arrangement, and possibly some further time may be necessary for this purpose. But the Commissioners expect to bring their whole task to a completion within next year.

I append an Estimate of the sum which will probably be required to defray the expenses of the Commission until its termination, the whole of which sum will come into the Votes of next Session.

The Right Honourable
H. Waddington.

RIVERS COMMISSION.

Sir,

2, Victoria-street, Westminster, 13 December 1866.

In reply to your letter of the 5th instant, the Rivers Commissioners desire me to say as follows:

The Commissioners have already reported upon the River Thames.

They have made inquiries, and taken evidence in the principal towns of the Aire and Calder Basin, and hope to be able to deliver their report upon that basin early in the ensuing year.

They are at present engaged in inquiring into the condition of the River Lea and its tributaries, and hope to report thereon also early in the ensuing year.

There will then, in accordance with the instructions attached to this Commission, remain to be investigated

The tributaries of the Thames (other than the Lea.)

The Mersey Valley.

The Severn Basin.

The Taff Valley.

A river basin comprising a mining district in Cornwall.

These inquiries, it being assumed that they are to be conducted in the same manner as that hitherto adopted, will occupy the Commissioners the whole of the ensuing year, and a part at least of the year 1868.

The Commissioners cannot now speak positively as to the date of the completion of the inquiries entrusted to them; and I am, therefore, unable to furnish you with an Estimate of the total expenditure of the Commission from its commencement to its close.

I send, however, an Estimate of the probable expenses of the Commission from its commencement to March 31, 1867.

I also send, in accordance with your instructions, a detailed Estimate of the sum required to be voted for the purposes of the Commission during the ensuing Session of Parliament.

The Right Honourable
H. Waddington.

I am, &c.
(signed) Godfrey Lushington.

COURTS OF JUSTICE COMMISSION.

ESTIMATED Expenses of this Commission.

Sir, 33, Lincoln's-Inn Fields, 13 December 1866.

IN answer to your circular of the 5th instant, I have to state as follows:—

In my letter to you of the 13th December 1865, I gave an Estimate of the expenses of this Commission for the year 1st April 1866 to 31st March 1867, amounting to 1,200 l. I believe that Estimate will turn out sufficient for the ordinary staff and expenses. But I stated in that letter that if additional assistance should be required, that amount would be exceeded, and it is now under the consideration of the Commission whether it will not be necessary to employ an extra staff of clerks for six or eight weeks, to examine and check the measurements of the different competing plans, and if (as I do not doubt) this is resolved on, that expense will be extra.

EXPENSE of Commission.

My estimate for the remainder of this year, i. e., to 31st March 1867, and for the then next 12 months is as follows:—

To 31st March 1867:	£.	s.	d.
Salaries to 31st March next (two quarters) - - -	475	-	-
Expenses of Office ditto - ditto - - -	125	-	-
£.	600	-	-
N.B. —This amount was included in my last year's Estimate. I have now about 200 l. in hand towards the Office Expenses.
Additional assistance to examine designs, say - -	100	-	-
£.	700	-	-

I estimate that the expenses for the year from the 1st April 1867 to the 31st March 1868, will be—

Salaries of:										£.	s.	d.
Architectural Clerk	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	500	-	-
Assistant Secretary	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	250	-	-
Messenger	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	200	-	-
										950	-	-
Office expenses estimated at	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	250	-	-
										£.	1,200	-

I have not included in the above Estimate the following expenditure (already authorized by the Treasury), which will be made by the Paymaster General direct, and not through the hands of this Commission:

	£.	s.	d.
Temporary Building (mentioned below)	1,123	-	-
Custody of ditto, amount unknown	-	-	-
Restoring Gardens after removal of ditto	50	-	-
Photographing of competing designs	150	-	-
Fees to Mr. Pownall for assistance to the Commission, amount unknown.	-	-	-

WORK done by Commission during the past Year.

IN answer to your question on this head, I beg to state that since the date of my former letter on this subject (13th December 1865), the Commissioners, with the assistance of the Officers of the Law and the Profession, and with the concurrence of the Treasury, have determined what Courts and Offices shall be included in the New Building, and what accommodation shall be allotted to each department.

This information was embodied in a book with 66 schedules, such book forming the instructions for the architects. The body of this book, without the schedule, was laid before Parliament, and printed by Order of the House of Commons 4th June 1866, Parliamentary Paper, No. 325. Twelve architects were appointed to compete, and 11 are now engaged preparing their plans. A temporary building has been erected in New Square, Lincoln's Inn, for the examination and exhibition of the plans, which are to be sent in on the 15th January 1867.

Besides numerous Committee Meetings, the Commission has held 16 General Meetings since it was appointed, at most of which the Lord Chancellor has presided.

DURATION of Commission, and Estimated further Expenses.

As I stated last year, it is impossible to estimate the length of time over which the business of the Commission will extend; I myself apprehend that it must be kept on foot till the New Courts are completed. As a mere guess, however, I should say it will certainly be on foot for four or five years longer. Its chief work will be finished when the final plans are fully drawn up and finally approved.

I see no reason to think that a larger general staff or expenditure than at present will be required in future years; my hope is that it may be diminished as soon as the final plans are settled.

The Right Hon. H. Waddington,
Whitehall.

I am, &c.
(signed) Edwin W. Field, Secretary.

MARRIAGE LAWS COMMISSION.

8, Old-square, Lincoln's Inn,
14 January 1867.

Sir,
I HAVE had the honour to receive your letter asking me "to prepare and transmit an Estimate of the sum which will be required to defray the expenses of the Marriage Laws Commission from its commencement to its termination."

After having made every endeavour to arrive at some safe conclusion on the subject, I find myself still unable to give any definite or satisfactory answer to this inquiry.

You

You ask the "amount which will require to be voted for this business during the ensuing Session of Parliament."

In reply to this second question, the following is a statement of the sums which, according to the best judgment I can form, will be at once necessary and sufficient:—

STATEMENT of the Sums which will be required to defray the Expenses of the MARRIAGE LAWS COMMISSION from the 31st March 1867 to the 31st March 1868.

The Secretary's Salary for one Year - - - - -	500	—	—
The Clerk's - ditto - ditto - - - - -	104	—	—
The Messenger's ditto - ditto - - - - -	65	—	—
Probable Travelling Expenses of Commissioners and of Witnesses - - -	140	—	—
Shorthand Writer's Fees - - - - -	50	—	—
Postages and Sundries - - - - -	41	—	—
£.	900	—	—

You next desire me to furnish a statement of "the progress of the Commissioners in the inquiry entrusted to them."

After sundry consecutive meetings in the beginning of last year, the Commissioners commenced on the 17th of February the oral examination of witnesses, with reference mainly, though not exclusively, to the Marriage Laws of England, of Scotland, and of Ireland. A great body of evidence has thus been put together, arranged, and printed; and it has from time to time formed the subject of many conferences and much deliberation on the part of the Commissioners. With reference to certain points, the information collected may be thought sufficient to form the basis of a report. But, on other topics, especially those involving controversies of a more general character, the Commissioners are met by the inherent difficulty and critical nature of the large subject which they are appointed to investigate; the discordance of the various laws which govern it; and the opposing, not to say hostile, opinions entertained regarding it in different portions of the Queen's dominions.

The Commissioners therefore contemplate the holding of a series of meetings early in the ensuing spring, when it is hoped that they may all be enabled to convene, for the purpose of considering how far the inquiry committed to their care has been effectively matured, and what further investigation may be necessary.

The last point with reference to which you desire me to transmit information is as to the "probable time it will take to complete the inquiry."

When the Commissioners have concluded their conferences in the spring, I hope to be in a position to give an answer to this question, which I really cannot give at present.

I have, &c.
(signed) John Fraser Macqueen.

The Right Hon. H. Waddington,

RAILWAY INQUIRY.

House of Lords, Westminster, S. W.,
24 January 1867.

Sir,

IN compliance with your request, conveyed to me by Mr. Macgregor, I beg leave to forward you, on the other side, an Estimate of the probable expenses of this Commission for the year 1867.

It is uncertain how long the work of the Commission will go on, but I have assumed it may be concluded by the end of June.

OATHS INQUIRY COMMISSION.

2 Victoria-street, Westminster, S.W.,
8 December 1866.

Sir,

IN answer to your letter of the 5th instant, I beg leave to state that, to the best of my belief, the whole expenses of this inquiry will not exceed 1,000 £, including all salaries and printing.

Of this sum about 300 £. has been received, viz. :—

100 £. Secretary's salary to Michaelmas,

100 £. for incidental expenses, received July 2nd,

and the remainder for clerk and messenger's salaries.

Two sums of 50 £. are due to two gentlemen who were authorised by the Treasury to assist in compiling a list of oaths, &c.

As far as I can form an estimate, I should say that 700 £. would cover all expenses from this time to the completion of the inquiry.

The Commissioners have held eight meetings, and have made considerable progress, and I have no doubt their report will be presented during the coming Session.

I have, &c.

(signed) J. H. Patteson, Secretary.

(8.)

COAL COMMISSION.

THE Sum which is expected to be required for this Commission in the year ending 31st March 1868, is about 10,000 £.

The inquiries have been divided by the Commission among five Committees, viz. :

- A. On possible Depths of Working.
- B. On Waste in Combustion.
- C. On Waste in Working.
- D. On Probabilities of finding Coal under certain Strata.
- E. On Mineral Statistics.

The expenditure will be under the following heads:—

Secretary's Salary - - - - -	400	per annum.
Sundries - - - - -	80	„
	£. 480

Mining Engineers, at from one to three guineas a day each.

Local Coal viewers and others.

Travelling expenses of Commissioners, Mining Engineers, and others.

(9.)

LAW DIGEST COMMISSION.

2, Stone Buildings, Lincoln's Inn,
13 December 1866.

Sir,

IN reply to your letter of the 5th inst., I am directed to express the regret of the Commissioners that in consequence of their having hardly commenced their inquiry, they are unable to furnish you in precise terms with the information you require. The Commissioners, however, anticipate that within a few months they will complete the work entrusted to them, and that—besides the expenses of stationery, printing, and possibly shorthand writer's notes—the only expenses of the Commission will be the Secretary's salary, which is not yet fixed, and contingent expenses for books, postage, &c., which will probably not exceed 100 £.

The Right Hon. H. Waddington.

I am, &c.
(signed) Godfrey Lushington.

(10.)

SCOTCH EDUCATION COMMISSION.

15, Queen-street, Edinburgh,
31 January 1867.

Sir,

IN reply to your letter dated the 23rd January, I beg leave to transmit to you, for the information of the Home Secretary, the following estimate:—

According to the estimates already submitted, the sum of 8,360 £. will be required to meet the expenses of the Commission from its commencement up to the beginning of the coming Session.

In addition to this sum of 8,360 £., the amount required to be voted during the ensuing Session will be 3,420 £., distributed as follows:

Salaries of Secretary, Clerk, and Messenger - - -	800	-	-
Expenses of Offices - - - - -	120	-	-
Travelling Expenses of Secretary, Commissioners and Witnesses - - - - -	300	-	-
Postages and Cab-hire - - - - -	200	-	-
Tabulating Statistics, and extra Clerks - - - - -	500	-	-
Assistant Commissioners - - - - -	800	-	-
Travelling Expenses of Assistant Commissioners and their Clerks - - - - -	700	-	-
TOTAL - - - - -	3,420	-	-

The Commissioners have already presented their first Report, containing the oral evidence of many witnesses.

Statistics and other information with respect to all the schools in the rural districts and in many of the towns in Scotland have been collected and printed, and the Commissioners have also collected and printed a considerable amount of written evidence.

The educational condition of the rural districts of the Hebrides and of Glasgow has also been investigated by the Assistant Commissioners.

Two Assistant Commissioners have for some time been engaged in examining the Burgh and Middle-class Schools; this inquiry must still occupy a considerable time.

The Commissioners hope to present a second Report to Parliament before the close of the ensuing Session, but it is not probable that the final Report of the Commissioners can be presented to Her Majesty until the end of the year.

The Right Hon. H. Waddington,
Home Office.I am, &c.
(signed) Patrick Cumin, Secretary.

Note*—The Out-door Officers are occasionally employed for the convenience of Merchants, and in such cases the Merchants are called upon to pay the expense of the Officers' attendance, which is brought to account as Customs Revenue. The amount received in the year ended 31 March 1866 was 2,873*l.* 10*s.* 1*d.*

Note †—The Out-door Officers and Boatmen are paid 16*l.* a year, in lieu of day pay, after an approved service of five years; and all officers of these ranks receive day pay when employed on Sundays.

Note ‡—Previous to the passing of the Customs Amendment Act, 1857, the Crown provided Warehouses for the deposit of Tobacco under Bond. The Crown is liable to the payment of Rent for the Warehouse which was provided at Liverpool, until the expiration of the Lease thereof; but the Premises have been sub-let from the 25th March 1865, at a rent equal to that paid by the Crown; and this amount will be brought to account as Customs Revenue.

GEORGE WARD HUNT.

TREASURY MINUTE, dated 6th February 1867.

THE Financial Secretary calls the attention of the Board to the Report of the Committee of Public Accounts of the 4th August 1866, approving of the principle laid down in the Treasury Minute of the 22nd June 1866, for the future classification of the Civil Service Estimates.

In that Minute the Lords of the Treasury recorded their opinion that, in lieu of the existing division of the Civil Service Estimates into seven classes of subjects, it would be more convenient, both for the discussion of the Estimates in the House of Commons, and for the preparation and examination of the accounts showing the actual appropriation of the Votes, that the Civil Services should be separately classed in the Estimates, according to the Departments which are intrusted with the application of the Votes.

By the same Minute a Committee was appointed by their Lordships to inquire into the matters referred to in the 23rd Clause of the Act of last Session, which imposed on the Treasury the duty of devising the plans of account books, which it might be necessary to establish in the several Departments for giving effect to the provisions of the Act, relating to the preparation of annual accounts showing the appropriation of the Grants of Parliament; and their Lordships desired the Committee to report to them any improvements which might occur to them in the course of their inquiry, as proper to be made in the classification of the Civil Service Estimates.

The Members of this Committee have informed Mr. Hunt that they have given their attention, so far as their other official duties permitted, to the subjects referred to them in the Minute in question; but that the duty imposed upon them has been greater, and that the time which they could devote to it has been less than they expected, and that they have not therefore made sufficient progress in their inquiry to justify them in suggesting changes in the mode of preparing the Miscellaneous Estimates for Civil Services, which in their opinion would be satisfactory to the Treasury or to Parliament; and that they moreover consider that any changes of classification which might now be adopted would not be final, and consequently that it is advisable to defer such changes for the present.

Mr. Hunt is of opinion that changes in the form in which the annual Estimates are presented to Parliament should be very fully considered before they are adopted, as they not only destroy the comparison of Votes with previous years, but render it difficult for unofficial Members of the House of Commons to detect increased demands for particular services under an altered classification of the charges. Mr. Hunt is therefore disposed to agree with the Committee in considering that in order that the new classification of services, when determined on, may be as perfect as possible, and that the necessity for future alterations may be avoided, it will be advisable to delay the adoption of a new form of the Civil Service Estimates until their Lordships shall have before them the recommendations which the Committee may be prepared to submit, after a complete investigation of the whole of the details comprised in the numerous Civil Service Votes.

Mr. Hunt is of opinion that when this information is supplied, both the Government and the House of Commons will be in a more favourable position for judging of the propriety of any changes which may be suggested, than they can be before the completion of the inquiry which is in progress.

Mr. Hunt would submit to the Board that when the information necessary for the re-classification of the Civil Service Estimates has been obtained for this Board, by the Committee above referred to, it would be desirable, if time permitted, that before any scheme in pursuance thereof is finally adopted, it should have the approval of the Committee of Public Accounts.

My Lords approve of these suggestions, and direct that a copy of this Minute be laid before the House of Commons.
